++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Fine and dry with the odd shower possible.

Today:
A cloudy start to the day with some early fog patches, soon clearing. Conditions remaining dry with sunny spells throughout the day. Further cloud will develop into the afternoon, allowing the odd light shower to develop, largely in the west. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Any remaining light showers and patchy cloud ease into the evening, leaving a clear night, making it feel slightly cooler than recent nights. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tuesday:
A dry day to come. Any low cloud and fog patches during the early morning will soon clear, leaving a warm day with plenty of sunny spells. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Fine and dry for the rest of the week with prolonged sunshine on Wednesday feeling warmer. Thursday turning cloudier, but sunshine soon returns on Friday.
